More than 50 Romulus employees of the United Auto Workers Local 6000 gathered Feb. 21 for a peaceful protest against the budget cuts proposed by Gov. John Engler.

Thousands of state employees were conducting informational pickets across Michigan in an effort to hammer out what effects would take place as a result of the proposed 9.2-percent across-the-board cuts in state services. Wayne resident Kathy Beeny, who is also an employee of the UAW Local 6000, was chairwoman.

"What we support are the many Michigan residents who will lose vital services as a result of these cuts," Beeny said. "The cuts will mean hardships for a number of people including the elderly, poor and children in Michigan."

The protestors held signs asking "how many abused children will it take to keep the budget balanced?" and stating "Michigan is in a state of chaos."

Romulus resident Elaine McLaren was one of the protestors who wanted jobs back for the workers.

"I'm fighting to keep jobs and keep the benefits for the children and the elderly," McLaren said.

Romulus resident Cythia Dosete was also in favor of keeping her job as well as having Engler recalled.

The 9.2 percent cuts were implemented by Engler after the Legislature vetoed his proposed budget plan for the state. The proposed cuts include:

- Elimination of inspectors for licensed day-care centers, leaving thousands of children at risk and making Michigan the only state in the nation to ignore essential health and safety needs for children in day care facilities, according to the protestors.

- Severe cuts in department of mental health budgets, resulting in the closing of three critically needed mental health hospitals and care facilities and displacing hundreds of patients, according to UAW Local 6000 officials.

- Reductions in benefits paid to general assistance and Aid to Dependent Children recipients statewide, pushing many people into the streets, UAW Local 6000 officials said.

"A lot of people are going to be hungry," Romulus resident Darr Babcock said. "The elderly and the children are especially going to suffer."

The protestors chanted "recall Engler, no more cuts."

About $530 million in reductions were approved by the Legislature in December. Budget Bill SB 827 imposes a 9.2 percent cut on most of the major state departments, but holds harmless public schools K-12 and reduces funding for colleges and universities by only 1 percent, according to Michigan League for Human Services officials.

"The administration is seeking solutions which will result in a permanent downsizing of state government, despite data which suggests that state government has been reduced significantly over the past decade, particularly in the human services department," MLHS officials said.

The data is as follows, according to MLHS:

- Over the last decade, the state budget has not increased beyond the rate of inflation.

- State employment in all state departments, excluding the department of corrections, dropped nearly 25 percent from 1979-1980 to 1988-1989.

- Forty percent of the state classified employees provide services to low-income families and children, mentally ill people and other vulnerable citizens in the departments of social services, mental health and public health.

- Layoffs more than doubled during 1988-1989 to 515 statewide. Of the 515 layoffs, 254 were because of a reduction in the permanent work force. Sixty-eight percent of the reduction in force layoffs occurred in the Department of Mental Health.

The Romulus protest lasted for about an hour with area UAW employees from Belleville, Canton, Inkster and Wayne joining to offer support.

Councilmen set public hearing

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

A March 11 public hearing before Romulus councilmembers has been set for Plymouth resident Randall Emerick.

Emerick came to the regularly scheduled council meeting on Monday to request from councilmembers a permit for a sand-removal project within the city.

Emerick said he would like to restore the property at 35196 Eureka Road from sand to fresh soil.

According to Emerick, this project would allow for drainage and seed.

But councilmembers had a few concerns Monday about how Emerick would remove the sand.

They wanted to know whether the project would be regulated according to engineering standards.

Also chief among their concerns were:

- How much sand was going to be used?
- How was this project going to be handled?
- Was the project going to be handled in accordance with city codes and ordinances?
- Who would do the work on the project?

Councilman Noah P. Bergeron specifically wanted to know how much sand was going to be removed and who would be representing Emerick at the public hearing.

"From an official standpoint and to satisfy our concerns from an engineering point, who will be here to represent you at the public hearing?" Bergeron said.

Emerick told councilmembers he would have an engineer draw up plans for the project to be presented at the public hearing.

He also said about 40,000 yards of sand would be removed, and the fill for the property would come from the airport.

"Depending on the weather, I don't think this project will take more than six months," Emerick said.

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry was concerned about the weight of the trucks hauling the sand and dirt on the roads.

"I'd like for engineers to monitor it on a daily basis on the expense of the petitioner," Raspberry said.

Noah P. Bergeron

"Our engineers should lay out other guidelines. It's not that we are trying to hurt the small business man, but we are going to be left with the rest of this."

"It's beneficial for the next person that buys the property that they can develop the land."

Detroit Metropolitan Airport officials expressed an interest in buying the property on Eureka, according to Emerick.

Councilman Ellis Pennington was against any sand being taken from the property.

"The reason is we have had people take sand out of the area and filled it with garbage and rubbish," Pennington said.

Emerick said the job has already been paid for, and Wayne County officials have already inspected the sand to see if there are any contaminants.

If Emerick receives a permit to remove the sand, the following will take place:

- Remove sand from the property and refill with clean natural earth.

- Groundwater being pumped out will go to a ditch in front of the property to keep water from running back in.

- Roads used for ingress and egress of the property will mainly be Eureka Road east to Airport and west Interstate-275 north or south.

- The type of trucks used will be four- and five-axle semi-dumps and gravel trains.

Chamber members adopt amendment

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus Chamber of Commerce board members recently adopted an amendment to the chamber by-laws in regard to terms of office.

The amendment states the director of the Romulus Chamber will serve a three-year term. At the end of the term, he or she can seek re-election.

"There is no limit on the number of consecutive terms they can serve," the amendment states. "Elections will be held annually to replace directors whose term of office are expiring."

The number of expiring terms annually will be in rotation of 5, 5 and 6. Once elected, the individual, along with the other members, will elect a president, vice president, vice president elect or vice presidents, a secretary and a treasurer.

"They shall submit in writing, at the annual meeting a full report of the work and finances of the chamber," the amendment states. "The board shall have the power to fill all vacancies of the board for the unexpired term."

Previously the by-laws stated a member could not serve as a director for more than two consecutive three-year terms. They had to wait a year to seek election back on the board.

City to benefit from arrests

The City of Romulus will now be reimbursed for expenditures made by the city in responding to motor vehicle crashes and/or making arrests involving drivers who drink and drive or are under the influence of a controlled substance.

Councilmembers adopted Feb. 25 an amendment to Chapter 35 of the Romulus Code of Ordinances by implementing the section on restitution by impaired drivers.

The purpose for the amendment is due to a large number of vehicle crashes and arrests within the city involving individuals under the influence of liquor or a controlled substance, according to councilmembers.

"In such motor vehicle crashes, there exists a greater likelihood of personal injury and property damage," according to a press release from the council. "As a result of these incidents, a greater financial burden is placed on the resources of the city and its police, fire and public service and rescue resources by persons who are operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance."

Emergency response will include:

- Providing and/or utilizing public services including police, fire, rescue and public works services at the scene or as a result of a motor vehicle crash where one or more of the drivers was operating while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance or while impaired.
- The effecting of a traffic stop and physical, custodial arrest by a police officer when the arrested person was operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or controlled substance(s) or while impaired.

Expense of emergency response will include:

- The cost connected with the provision and administration of a breathalyzer examination and blood tests and any video taping of the driver, if applicable, such costs to be set by a council resolution.

- Should the court order, as part of the criminal sanctions imposed, any period of incarceration, the costs assessed to the city for the housing, care, feeding, security and all other requirements necessitated by the incarceration.

STATE NEWS DIGEST

Lawsuit filed on behalf of children

The largest child-advocacy organization, foster care and adoption-advocacy group in the state have combined forces to file a class-action suit against the Michigan Department of Social Services to block rate cuts in the child welfare program. They claim the reductions will severely harm abused, neglected and delinquent children.

In its suit, the 66-member Michigan Federation of Private Child and Family Agencies and the 3,900-member Michigan Foster and Adoptive Parent Association asked the Ingham County Circuit Court to stop DDS from implementing the 22-percent cuts in the state private agencies and to foster and adoptive home rates. The Federation action contends the cuts would drastically impede the ability of non-profit private agencies to provide services to more than 10,000 children in their care and reduce reimbursement rates to foster and adoptive parents to such a level that many could no longer afford to care for homeless children.

Commission set hearing date

A public meeting has been called by Wayne County Commissioner Susan L. Hubbard to organize an Ecorse Creek clean-up campaign which she hopes will become as essential as the Rouge River clean-up campaign.

The first meeting of the Friends of Ecorse Creek is set for 3:30 p.m. March 8 at the Melvindale Ice Arena.

Sept. 7 has been set as the target date for the cleanup.

Plymouth-Canton schools noted

The Plymouth-Canton school district was one of 14 districts, among 147 nominated by state boards of education, recognized as "exemplary" by the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

The honor was announced at the recent NAEYC conference in Washington D.C.

Romulus named as tops

Romulus Senior High School teacher Phyllis Cebula was honored as 1990 teacher of the year by both the Michigan Home Economics Educators and the Michigan Occupational Education Association.

County homeless center set for March opening

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

The Wayne County Homeless Center will open within the next month.

The original plan was to open the center by March 1, but that date had to be pushed back, while the construction phase was completed, according to planners.

"At our next meeting, we're hoping the county will have set a date for the official opening," said Joe Benyo, Westland City Council liaison and member of the Homeless Advisory Committee.

Committee members will meet March 20.

Center officials are still working to smooth out some of the ruffles. One area of concern is deciding where the children will go to school and how they will get there.

"We're still working on the arrangements with the state Board of Education," Benyo said.

Originally, the plan was to have children attend Wayne-Westland schools, but nothing

"It's going to be just an outstanding center for homeless families. It's just a gorgeous facility."

— Joe Benyo
council liaison

has been formalized.

Another issue still unresolved is who will be attending the opening day festivities. Wayne County officials are hoping Jack Kemp, the secretary of the U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department, will be able to attend.

The biggest grant received for the construction of the center was awarded by the Housing and Urban Development Department. The grant was for more than $1 million.

Thirty-eight communities in Wayne County contributed community development funds to help build the center which ended up costing more than was budgeted.

"It's going to be just an outstanding center for homeless families. It's just a gorgeous facility," Benyo said.

One goal set by the Homeless Advisory Council was to make the center look like a home, rather than the traditional homeless shelter, which has one large open room with numerous cots.

The Family Center will provide a living area for each family. There will be a community kitchen, play room and bathroom. Each family will have their own bedroom.

Most of the interior construction has been completed, according to Benyo. The center is located in an already existing building on the Eloise property near the intersection of Michigan Avenue and Henry Ruff Road.

To take away the harsh appearance, architects designed the exterior to give it a more "homey look."

The exterior is still under construction and furnishings have yet to be moved into the center, Benyo said.

Police building in need of new face-lift

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

It's pretty obvious that the Romulus police department is in need of a facelift or a new location, and the building authority is trying to do something about it.

Romulus residents will soon be receiving a questionnaire from City Hall requesting general information on what can be done to upgrade the police department facility.

The building which houses the police department is quite old and in need of repairs,

"We would appreciate residents filling out the questionnaire and returning it as soon as possible in order to give us an idea on what should be done with the building."

— James Napiorkowski
City Treasurer

according to City Treasurer James Napiorkowski.

"The questionnaire will be sent with a self-addressed envelope," Napiorkowski said. "We would appreciate residents filling out the questionnaire and returning it as soon as possible in order to give us an idea on what should be done with the building."

The building authority will be making decisions on the future of the department.

About 10 years ago the city established its own police department. In the early '80s, the city bought the old Romulus Elementary School on Olive Street where the department is still located.

"The school was built almost 70 years ago, and the problems with the structure have reached the point that we must decide what to do with it," building officials said. "We must either renovate and enlarge the building to bring it up to code and provide the space the department needs, or build a new facility." The questionnaire asks residents how long they have lived in the city, whether they have been to the police department and if the structure looks like it needs improvements.

City officials are hoping to have all the questionnaires returned within three weeks.

The Romulus Building Authority consists of Andy Solak, Manufacturers Bank, Napiorkowski, Tony Kopas, Romulus Hardware, Stephen Trahey, attorney and Wendy Dixon, Security Bank & Trust.

Contest features drug prevention

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Elementary students from the Romulus school district recently participated in a poster contest which was geared toward preventing drug abuse.

The event was sponsored by the Substance Abuse Prevention Build a Bridge program, according to Sandra Langley, chairwoman of Build a Bridge.

"The contest was open to all the public elementary schools kindergarten through sixth grade," Langley said. "This is the second time we have had the contest. The parents liked it so much last year that we decided to bring it back this year."

More than 30 students had posters mounted in Romulus City Hall for the Build a Bridge judges to rank first-place winners. Students designed various themes such as: "drinking and driving is like playing with a loaded gun," "pots are for cooking, not smoking" and "put a lid on drugs."

"The students had about two weeks to make their posters," Langley said. "We judged the posters on Feb. 8."

Winners were established in three different age groups: Lorie Boling from Hale Creek Elementary won first place for the K-2 category, Lisa Rozdoske from Cory Elementary won first place for the 3-4 grade category and Randy Olson from Barth Elementary won first place for the fifth grade category.

On March 4 the winners will receive a plaque from the city and school district along with a $50 savings bond. The posters will remain at City Hall for a little while longer and then will be transferred to the school board office.

"With this program we're trying to promote the community and school involvement in drug awareness," Langley said. "We're eventually going to try to provide educational material on drug awareness and provide in-service workshops for the parents."

Judges for the poster contest included: School Board member Dan Dales, Romulus police officers John Smagner and Terri Koski, Partnerships for Education Coordinator Ed Clark, Romulus Health Coordinator Kate Conway, Romulus School Superintendent William Bedell and Mayor Beverly McAnally.

On April 25, Build a Bridge officials will be sponsoring the "High on Fashion" clothing show from Hudsons at Romulus Senior High School.

Youngsters wait for dad's return from Persian Gulf

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

More than four months ago, A.J. Gauetta, 3, watched a big jet take off into the sky, carrying his father to Saudi Arabia.

Now A.J. and his 14-month-old sister, Holly, wait day after day for another big jet to bring their father home. And when Joseph Gauetta comes home, A.J. will introduce him to his new little brother, Zachary, who is 3 weeks old.

But for now, A.J.'s mom, Lisa, and his grandmother, Nancy, still wait for Joe's homecoming.

"He's very very attached to his daddy. He misses his daddy so much," said Nancy Gauetta. Joe, 28, joined the Air Force after he graduated from Wayne Memorial High School in 1980.

After serving four years, he re-enlisted as a reserve. And on Oct. 6, he was called to duty, leaving behind his job as a machine repairman at Van Dresser, and more importantly his family.

For Joe's family, the hardest part of being apart is not knowing when he will come home. He was already supposed to come home two times, but each time his stay was extended.

"He was supposed to come home Jan. 1, and then it was extended to April 1. The day I got my phone call telling me his stay was extended again to next October, I just broke down and cried," Lisa said.

The phone call couldn't have come at a worse time, just three days before Lisa was expected to deliver their third child.

War is difficult enough for adults to understand, but for a 3-year-old it is nearly impossible.

"He's not close to the danger. And I know that he is staying right where he is until this is over. That eases my mind. I know that where he is there isn't the threat of chemical weapons."

— Lisa Gauetta

"He knows his daddy is a soldier and that soldiers shoot the bad guys. But when someone asked him if his daddy shoots the bad guys, he said, 'No, my daddy fixes airplanes,'" Lisa said.

"I'm thankful that I don't have to deal with that part."

Raising three children alone has taken a toll on Lisa. Waiting for her weekly letter and her weekly phone call has become as routine as going to bed at night.

The fact that Joe doesn't have a job that involves combat and that he works on an airbase that isn't close to the fighting is somewhat comforting to Lisa.

"He's not close to the danger. And I know that he is staying right where he is until this is over. That eases my mind," she said.

"I know that where he is there isn't the threat of chemical weapons."

Joe comes from a family that has military in its blood. His father and many of his uncles served in various branches of the service.

"We're very proud of him. It's just something you have to adjust to," Nancy said. "Only having two sons, you kind of build your life around them."

One of the ways Lisa copes is to talk with other wives who have husbands in the Persian Gulf. She hopes to join a support group for spouses based at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Another way the family copes is to remember Joe as much as they can. Nancy recently had sweatshirts made for the entire family with Joe's picture on the front.

She appreciates the fact so many people support the troops in the Gulf.

"My heart goes out to all those boys. I'm sure that there are a lot of families out there who need to know their (loved one) is not forgotten," she said.

The day that Joe comes home, everyone will know about it. Lisa will make sure that everyone knows.

"This is the hardest thing we've gone through in our marriage. And when he comes home, it will be the happiest day of my life," Lisa said.

Romulus councilmembers set a public hearing for March 11 to close out and transfer city Community Development Block Grant funds.

Community Development Director Jeffery M. Martell was recently notified by the Wayne County CDBG director that the 1991 proposed CDBG budget for Romulus will be at the 1990 level of $130,000 with a slight chance of a 5-percent increase.

"I'm requesting a public hearing to be scheduled for March 11 to hear any formal requests for 1991 funds," Martell said.

Final adoption of the new CDBG budget will be scheduled for March 25, at the regularly scheduled council meeting

Gas station robbed

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus police are looking for two male suspects who allegedly robbed the Total Gas Station at Wayne and Ecorse roads Feb. 22.

A 31-year-old male attendant observed a black male, about 5-7 with a moustache and around 175 pounds, enter the store around 9 p.m.

The suspect walked around the shop, browsing as if looking to buy something, according to police.

When the suspect approached the attendant, he allegedly demanded money after pulling out a knife.

A small amount of money was handed over to the suspect. The attendant noticed another black male standing in the entrance way with a ski mask waiting for the other suspect.

No injuries were reported.

Both suspects fled on foot. Anyone with information should contact Romulus police at 941-8400.

Black History celebrated

Noted author Norman R. Allen Jr. of Buffalo, New York, was the keynote speaker at the Black History Month program, sponsored by the Inkster Chapter of the NAACP.

Allen chose for his theme, Monument to the Unknown Slave.

Noting that 1990 marked the 125th anniversary of the emancipation of the slaves in the United States, Allen said racism still thrives in America.

He said on June 19, 1990, a commission by African Americans for Humanism was formed.

Paper products recycled

Some 20,000 pounds of paper has been recycled by Envotech since the firm launched its corporate inter-office recycling plan last August.

Computer print-out paper, copy machine paper and mixed office waste paper are being separated at the corporate headquarters into individual paper recycling receptacles in every office.

"We've had 100 percent cooperation from everybody," said Lou Hildebrant, coordinator of the recycling program. "When we first proposed the idea, everybody took part, from the overall design down to the actual selection and location of each recycling bin in each office."

Michigan Recovery Systems Inc., a related company to Envotech, operates a large industrial program in Romulus. MRS recycles a wide variety of hazardous industrial wastes and solvents which contributes to environmental protection through recycling and reuse.

"This corporate paper recycling program is a natural extension of our corporate commitment to protecting the environment," Hildebrant said.

Police seek witnesses to crimes

Van Buren Township police are seeking witnesses who could provide information leading to the arrest and conviction of local criminal suspects.

Not only are clues to the 7-year-old slaying of Wayne Clemons being sought, but police are asking for the aid of residents in bringing other criminals to justice as well, said Van Buren Township Public Safety Director Mark Perkins.

Individuals who have information about narcotics traffic, breaking and enterings and other crimes may contact the police department at 699-8930, or bring information to officers at the police station, 46425 Tyler Road, west of Belleville Road.

Tips also may be sent to Unsolved Crimes, The Belleville Enterprise, P.O. Box 278, Belleville Mich. 48111, and they will be forwarded to the police department.

Gas prices drop

How long has it been since you've seen gasoline prices lower than $1 per gallon?

On Monday, several Belleville and Romulus gas stations posted prices of less than $1, the lowest prices since August 1990, at the start of the Persian Gulf crisis. Considering the 5-cent per-gallon tax hike imposed at the first of the year, gasoline prices are now less than they were six months ago.

One station at Belleville Road and Interstate-94 posted a 99.9 price for regular unleaded gas, while another at the same intersection posted a price of 102.9 per gallon for regular unleaded.

At a station on Main and Third streets, gasoline prices were 97.9 for regular unleaded and 107.9 for unleaded plus. Prices at the Haggerty Road-I-94 intersection were 103.9 for unleaded regular, 109.9 for super regular and 119.9 for super unleaded.

A station, located at Wayne and Ecorse roads, posted prices of 98.9 per gallon for unleaded gasoline, 105.9 for unleaded plus and 115.9 for premium unleaded.

Mrs. Wolfson, who died Dec. 14, 1989, had been employed in the Van Buren Public Schools for 14 years.

The memorial plaque will be displayed in the administration building.

Ophthalmologist - Eye Physician and Surgeon

AN INFANT'S VISION

How well does your baby see? Often a young mother will wonder how well her baby can see. Does the baby recognize you by seeing your face or by the sound of your voice?

At birth the eye is still developing, and is only about two-thirds the size of the adult eye. The retina is immature, and a newborn's visual acuity is only about 20/800, good enough to see the outlines of objects but no details. Within the first month of life the infant should be able to fix their vision on an object and follow it as it moves.

Measuring vision in a baby is difficult because of lack of cooperation and inability of the infant to verbalize their visual perception, and generally, an infant's vision cannot be measured precisely.

Most methods of measuring an infant's vision use techniques to attract their visual attention to smaller and smaller patterns, until the pattern is so fine they don't perceive it. These tests indicate that a child experiences a rapid improvement in vision during the first year of life. Within the first few months of life your baby can recognize you, and sometime around the age of one year the child should be able to see about 20/100, good enough to differentiate small objects.

Signs indicating possible eye diseases in an infant include crossing or other misalignment of the eyes, whiteness or other discoloration of the pupil, continuous jerking movements of the eyes, or inability to fix vision on an object.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF VAN BUREN REGULAR BOARD MEETING MINUTES FEBRUARY 19, 1991

Meeting called to order by Supervisor Jakokes at 7:30 p.m. Present: Jakokes, Fain, Foster, Birbeck, Cicotte and Rochowiak. Absent: Melvin. Others in attendance: Building/Planning Director McNally, Public Safety Director Perkins, Lt. Brooks, Public Services Director Partridge, Recreation Director Long, Secretary King and an audience of fourteen.

AGENDA: Motion Fain, support Cicotte to approve the agenda as presented. Carried.

MINUTES: Motion Birbeck, support Rochowiak to accept the [February 5, 1991] regular Board minutes as presented. Carried.

CORRESPONDENCE: Supervisor Jakokes read a letter thanking the Substance Abuse Task Force for the good job being done on the D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) Program.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS: None.

NEW BUSINESS: Motion Birbeck, support Rochowiak to approve pay estimate #2 Quirk Road improvements, amount of $47,749.68 to Thompson-McCully, subject to fund availability from Waste Management, Inc., as presented. Carried.

Motion Cicotte, support Rochowiak to approve the Recreation Committee's 1991 Van Buren Park fees as presented. Carried.

Motion Fain, support Foster to send this recommendation [to rejoin the Huron River Watershed Committee] to Environmental Analyst Babinchak to put together a contract with the Huron River Watershed Council to spell out the services Van Buren Township will require, and bring back the agreement including comments from the Lake Committee to the Board for action at its next regularly scheduled meeting. Carried.

Motion Fain, support Cicotte to become a party to the Inter-Local Agreement of the Western Wayne County Narcotics Unit, contract to be executed by the Supervisor and the Clerk. Carried.

Motion Fain, support Birbeck to appoint Public Safety Director Perkins as a representative to the Board of Directors of the Western Wayne County Narcotics Unit, and appoint Lt. Ken Brooks as an alternate. Carried.

Motion Foster, support Birbeck that the results of the Compensation Committee's work is deeply appreciated and reflects the following: (1) The committee's respect for the performance of duties now performed by our salaried staff; (2) Comparative notes which show that Van Buren salaried employees may not be paid commensurate to surrounding and similar community salaried employees; (3) The Committee's effort to recommend a better base salary equitable to these positions and responsibilities; and (4) The Committee's desire to attract and keep highly qualified and motivated individuals in these salaried positions. I am grateful for the expertise, effort and specifics of the report, but have the following further considerations: (1) 1991 Revenue sources, particularly our largest, State Shared Revenue, will not meet projections based on the present economy in the State of Michigan. This will require further constraints on all our considered expenditures; (2) Certain recommendations would cause us to lose parity where it currently (and in my opinion, properly) exists; (3) The Board must be aware that the financial impact is and can be greater than the cost of an increase. The additional costs of fringe benefits where applicable, and the consideration of what is computed in the "base" amount needs to be brought into the total cost considerations; (4) State law regarding compensation commissions is less responsive to the public in my opinion. Consideration of this method as a tool for future use could cause a loss of local control and local accountability; and (5) Neither the committee or the Board wish to make a "political statement" with this report. I believe it is our mutual desire to adequately address the salaries of all union and salaried employees. We look for accountable public service. For these reasons, which are state on the record, I gratefully acknowledge the service provided by all the committee members and request the report be received and filed, that no implementation of the recommendations occur at this time based on fiscal constraints; and that the above considerations be part of any future review of the recommendations. Carried.

Motion Birbeck, support Cicotte to return [request to authorize various purchases] to the Cable Commission for further research and study on the following: the Super VHS Recorder and instructor's wages, and further, upon completion of this research, this item be returned to the Board for Action. Carried.

Motion Rochowiak, support Cicotte to purchase a 1978 Massey-Ferguson 245 [utility] tractor with a 236 loader, with a 30-day warranty to begin upon beginning of Spring work, for use at the park, at a cost of $6,100, to be taken from the Park and Recreation Department budget. Carried.

VOUCHER LIST: Motion Birbeck, support Fain to accept the [February 19, 1991] Voucher List as presented. Carried.

REPORTS: Supervisor Jakokes ordered received and filed the January, 1991 Budgetary Report.

ANNOUNCEMENTS: Supervisor Jakokes provided the following announcements: The Recycling Center is open every Saturday from 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m., and accepts glass, tin, aluminum, newspaper and plastics. The Recreation Department recently took possession of a new Suburban budgeted for during budget negotiations. A Special Primary Election has been scheduled for Tuesday, March 19, 1991. If anyone is interested in working as an election inspector, please contact the Clerk's Office. February 28, 1991 is the last day to pay winter property taxes without penalty. Taxes may be paid at the Township Hall, NBD Banks at Haggerty Road and Main Street, or Comerica Bank on Belleville Road.

AUDIENCE: None.

ADJOURNMENT: Motion Birbeck, support Cicotte to adjourn at 8:10 p.m. Carried.

Respectfully submitted,
David Jakokes, Supervisor
Cheryl D. Fain, Clerk

Annual crisis strikes

It's happened again. Every year at the same time this crisis overwhelms me and depression becomes my constant companion.

Sure, I know, I'll get over it, but each February brings the same symptoms. First there is the realization, then the denial, the anger and finally, depression and then acceptance. All the signs of the one event each year which sends me to the very brink of craziness. Yeah, another birthday.

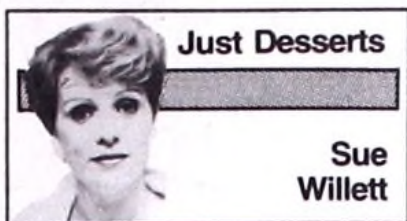

I thought I had done so well this year, too. I didn't say a word to anyone about it. I removed all references to the date I could find in my beloved spouse's appointment book.

There I was, depressed, sick and miserable, drugged to the eyeballs with every painkiller known to television advertising, alternately sniffling, sniffling and weeping in self pity when my family began phoning to wish me a happy birthday.

Here's some advice. Don't EVER tell anybody with a disposition like mine to have a happy birthday. Don't comment on the fact that I am another year into my dotage. Don't remind me that my memory is failing, I have no energy and that my musculature has begun to resemble that of a limp rope. No matter how many times anyone may say it, at my age, there is no such thing as a happy birthday.

My wonderful co-workers attempted to cheer me with a beautiful cake and cards Monday, to no avail. While I appreciated their kindness, they just can't make me young and vital again. My self-pity was all consuming despite the best efforts of my spouse who postponed his planned celebration arrangements until next weekend.

And then today my son and very, very pregnant daughter-in-law arrived to treat me to a birthday lunch. We talked about my expected-at-any-minute grandson for hours. What will he be like? What will his first word be? Will he be as blond as beautiful as his mother or look like his recruitment-poster handsome dad? Cloth diapers or disposable? Stroller or buggy? You know, the most critically important things in life.

And if one has to have birthdays to become a grandparent, then count me in. All of a sudden, it all seemed worthwhile. Thanks, kids.

Susan's birthday cookies

- 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup raspberry jam
- 2 large eggs
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons flour
- pinch salt
- 1/8 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup walnuts, chopped

Combine the 1 1/4 cups flour and 1/2 cup sugar. Cut in butter until mixture is like fine meal. Press over bottom of lightly-greased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake for 20 minutes, just until edges become browned. Remove from oven and spread raspberry jam over the shortbread. Beat eggs with brown sugar and vanilla until well blended. Stir in the 2 tablespoons flour mixed with salt and baking soda, then walnuts. Spoon over jam and spread lightly to corners of the pan. Return to oven and bake 20-25 minutes longer, until top is set. Cool in pan, then cut into bars.

Printing firm stays close to home

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

U.S. Print in Westland is making a move, but it's not out of the city.

Dennis LeMaiter, owner of U.S. Print, is making a new home for the business only 200 feet south from the old shop on Wayne Road. The business is now located at 6570 Wayne Road.

"There are a couple of reasons why we are making the move," LeMaiter said. "We were completely out of room at the old location. We needed more room to grow. We're also able to increase the lobby area now to about five times the original size."

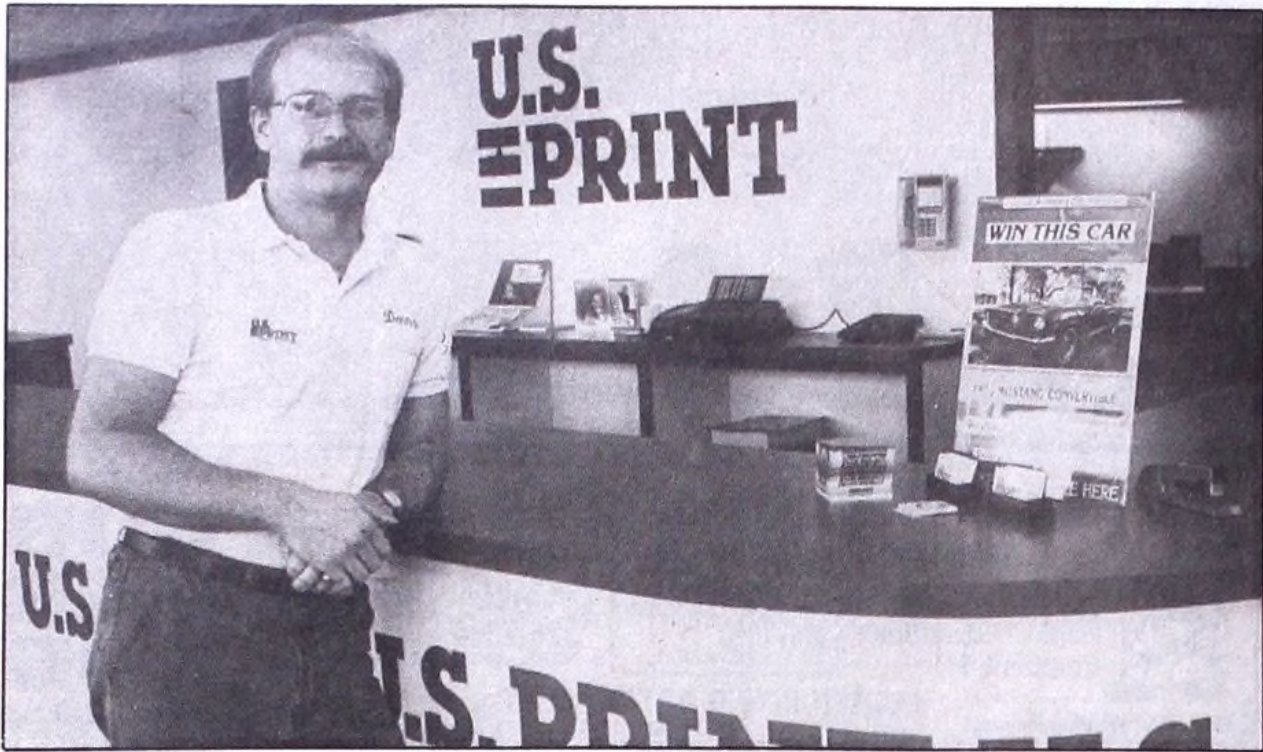

U.S. Print will be celebrating its fifth anniversary this year on April 1. LeMaiter said his establishment will be one of the largest print shops in Westland.

"We're going to have a 20-foot counter top, so now we can separate the counter area for wedding invitations to allow customers more room to look," LeMaiter said. "All in all, we've expanded the work area from typesetting to graphic design."

With the new building, U.S. Print will be able to offer customers better service and more parking spaces. The new location offers employee parking in the back, leaving the front parking lot solely for customers.

U.S. Print will continue to offer pick up and delivery services of small flyers to multiple cartons. The hours will also remain the same, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., however, LeMaiter is thinking about opening on Saturdays as well as staying late one day during the week for those individuals coming home from the office.

"We're going to finish moving everything this weekend," LeMaiter said. "We will officially open Monday at the new location."

Dennis LeMaiter, owner of U.S. Print.

Opinion

Maybe we should have taken the nickel?

It is time for second thoughts.

In November Michigan voters narrowly elected John Engler governor. The overwhelming majority of voters would say they put the Republican in office because he promised to reduce property taxes in a state where such taxes soar above the national average.

The then-incumbent, James Blanchard, promised "a nickel" back for every homeowner, according to his challenger's advertisements.

Now that the great Engler tax plan has been unveiled, voters are beginning to wonder if the nickel would have been the better bet.

After a round of budget cuts in critical "people" departments in the state which drew angry protesters to Lansing, the governor gave in and reinstated jobs and programs.

Now he is being criticized for his property-tax plan which does not appear to hold up "his end of the bargain."

The majority of Michigan voters cannot "take back" their vote in exchange for the "nickel", but we can only hope that the representatives we have elected to the state Legislature can sort out the weeds in this "over-dramatized" plan of Engler's.

State leader avoids the critical issue

When state Superintendent Gary Hawks visited the Wayne-Westland school district Tuesday we waited anxiously, perched on the edge of our seats, for some word about what he would do to help solve the worsening financial situation in the district.

He met with school leaders, community leaders and business leaders.

He urged them all to support the March 13 bid for a 7.75-mill increase. He suggested the importance of a good school system and how if the millage fails, the Wayne-Westland district will fail as well.

Never, however, did he suggest that the state was partially to blame for the plight of Wayne-Westland and other in-formula districts throughout the state. Never did he offer suggestions of what he might do to improve the situation.

Sure, voters in this district should support the millage. Students should not have to suffer like they are now, and homeowners should not stand by as their property values take a nose dive.

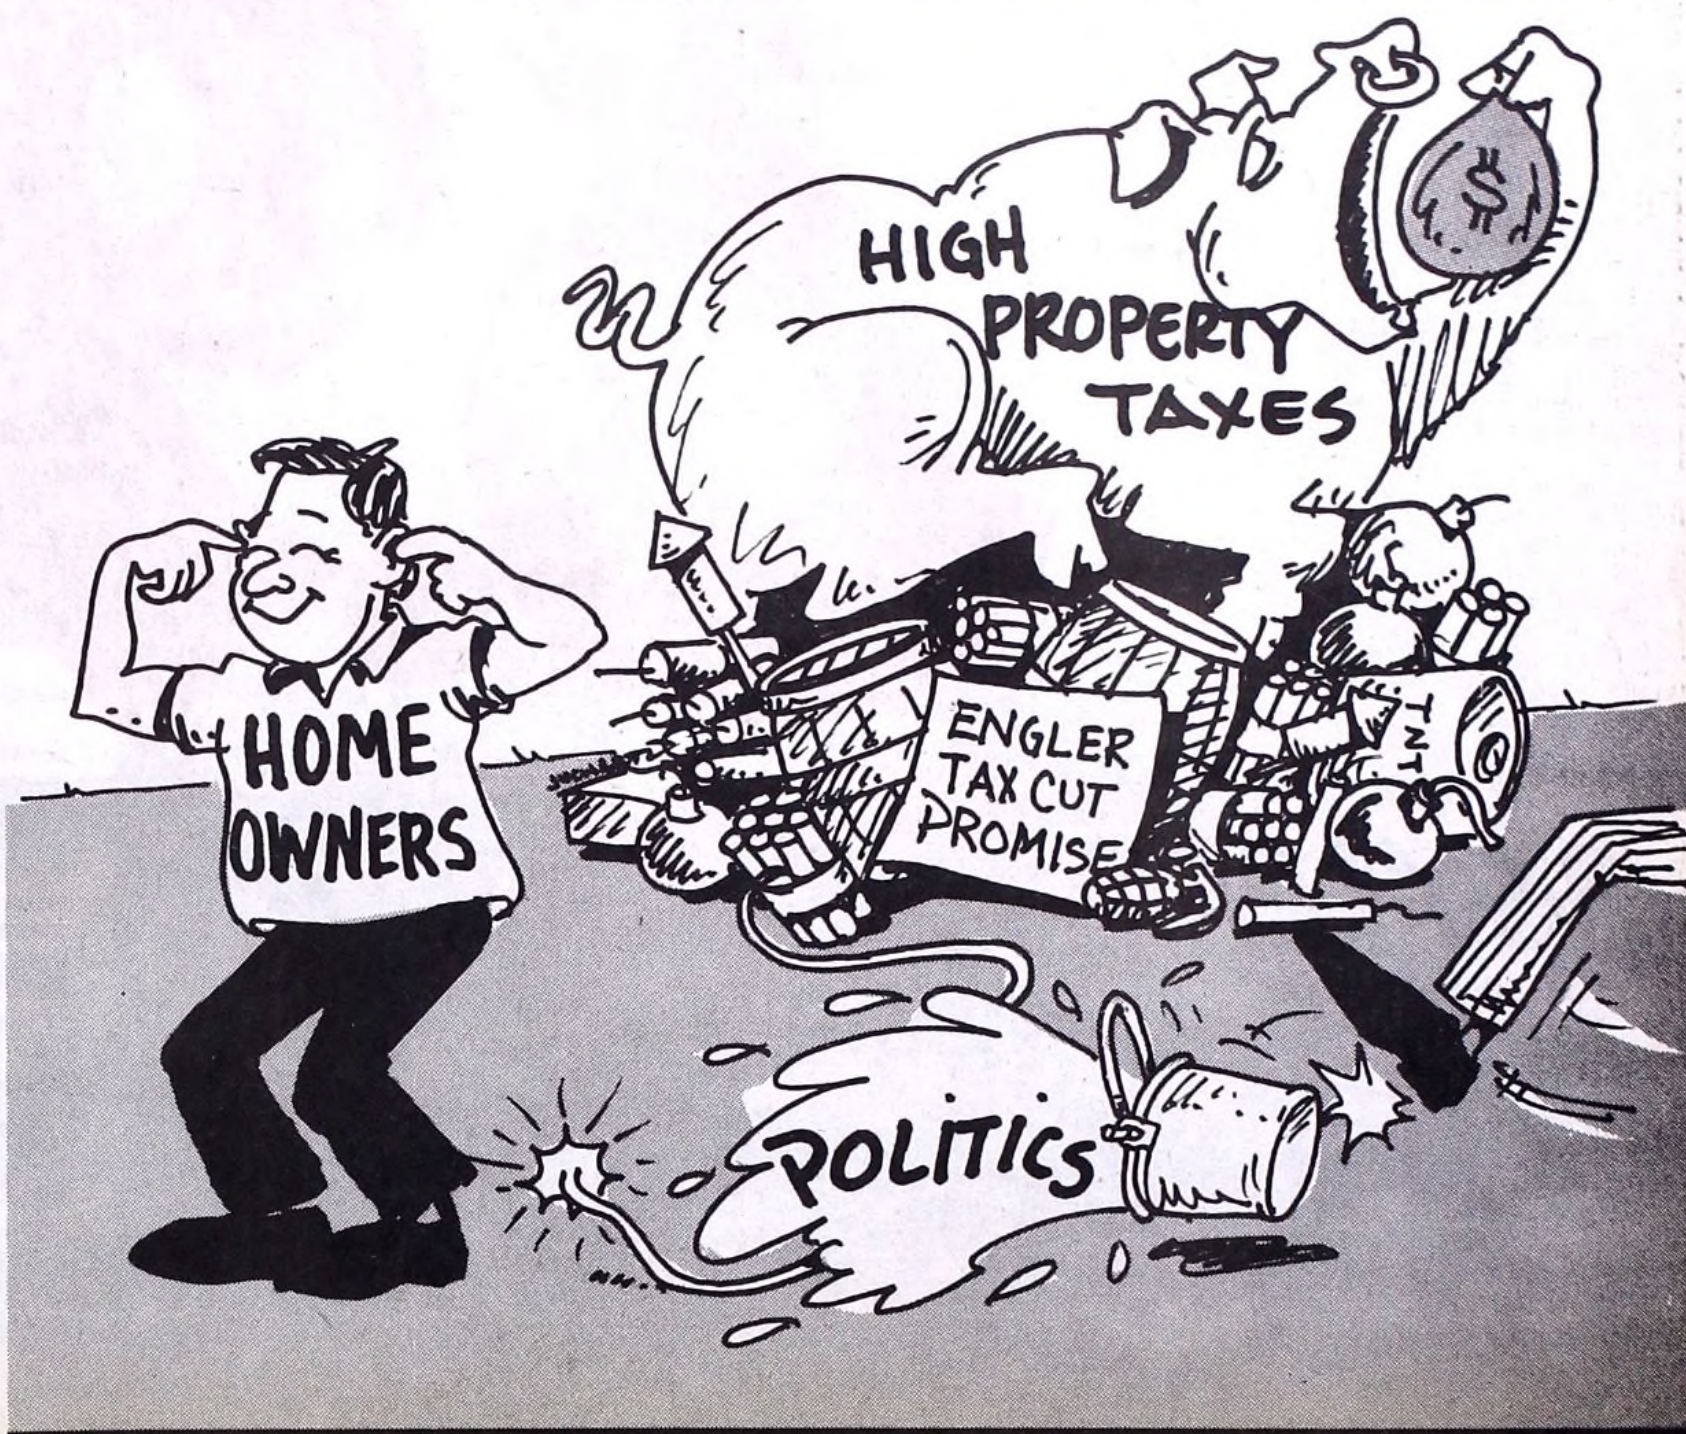

The real problem, however, lies with the state. Schools in the state of Michigan are not funded in an equitable manner. There are rich districts and poor districts and the scale never seems to even out.

The scales will not balance until legislators and Mr. Hawks work to find a solution to a problem which will cause great distress to the future of this state.

Voters can vote for millage after millage, but the question of state funding for education will not go away.

It would have been the responsible thing to do Mr. Hawks to address the issue of what you will do for Wayne-Westland, along with what we should do for Wayne-Westland.

Afterall, we look to you for guidance in this area.

Public support is critical

It is a fact that public financial support is critical in the choice of programs which schools can offer. Therefore, a school board should promote the involvement of parents in the educational process. This should occur throughout the school year and not merely when it is time to vote for school referendums and other school issues. Additionally, with the present trends of school reform sweeping the nation, the 90s already promise to allow parents a choice in determining which public school their child will attend, even if the school of choice, is in a different neighborhood, from where they live. This connotes a need for teachers, counselors and other staff to "market" the neighborhood school where one is working.

The above opening statements imply a need to develop good programs not only for the children, but also for the adults of the community so as to develop the school attendance area into a true community of learners. It is a strong implication that the school building itself, must house services of some kind to all the people in the community. It is known that people who benefit from a program will be the first to support the school, both verbally and financially.

Developing a community of learners, however, is a long process requiring the commitment of the school board, the principal and the entire teaching, custodial and administrative staff. Critical to this challenge is the realization that the quality of the programs offered the students cannot be compromised, i.e., additional programs geared toward the adults cannot be bought at the expense of the students. Within this criteria, I suggest the following for involving parents.

My main premise is that we must focus on developing an attitude which connotes a sense of ownership of the school. People must realize that a public school belongs to all the people who live in the community even those without school-age children. (The results of the school's programs affect not only the immediate neighborhood, but also the world.) Development of such an ownership attitude can begin by surveying the people of the school attendance area to provide an opportunity for input as well as to provide some direction to the school board for planning purposes. A simple survey might focus on four general themes: 1. What is the school doing well that should be continued? 2. What should the school discontinue? 3. What improvement is needed? 4. What is the school doing that doesn't make a positive difference? Feedback from a survey would indicate the next step needed.

I think that all staff members should complete the survey to provide some insight of the responsibilities of each staff member to inform parents about the school. I believe that the counselor's role in such an endeavor is the same as the rest of the staff - to help the people have a knowledge base of the school's programs, including the counseling program, in order to help them develop an "ownership" attitude.

Vote yes on the school millage March 13, 1991.

Business women express concern

At the February meeting of the Westland Business and Professional Women, the following concern was brought to our attention by Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard.

The federal government, through the Health Care Financing Administration, has instructed Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan and other Medicare contractors to plan a slowdown in the volume of Medicare claims processed.

It is our feeling that this action will result in a substantial claims backlog, significantly slower processing time, and a backlog of inquiries, explanation of Medicare benefits and reviews and hearings.

It is also our concern that senior citizens, both male and female, and women who are single parents will be forced to pay for services in advance, with no assurance of prompt reimbursement.

We strongly urge you to take whatever steps necessary to have President Bush and Congress order the Office of Management and Budget to immediately release the $131 million that is already appropriated.

March madness Luck of draw pits old rivals in district basketball playoffs

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The luck of the draw did it again – rivals Westland John Glenn and Wayne Memorial will meet in the Class A district basketball playoffs at Livonia Franklin Monday.

The quest for district championships will begin Monday for most of the teams in the area.

Belleville and Robichaud will host district tournaments.

Franklin, under second-year Coach Ron Hanna, is favored to survive its district. However Coach Ron Hanna and his Patriots will have to overcome their rival, Churchill.

Churchill will clash with the Patriots at 7 p.m. Monday. The winner will advance to the semifinals scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 6. Wayne, a runnerup in the Wolverine 'A' Conference, takes on the Glenn Rockets at 6 p.m.

The Westlanders are sporting a dismal 3-16 record going into the week, and Coach Pat Bennett is the first to admit his team has problems. He has not been able to come up with a reliable starting five.

They have decent teams. We all know that in the playoffs, there are no tomorrows. So we can't afford a letdown.

— George Thompson Jr.
Inkster cage coach

The championship at Franklin will be decided at 7 p.m. March 8.

In the meantime, Belleville, riding the crest of a 14-game winning streak, will make its bid for a district title before the home crowd Monday night. Coach Michael Garland and the Tigers will have to contend with Taylor Truman in the first round. The Rams always are a pesky playoff team and can cause problems.

On March 5 Romulus begins shooting. The four-time district champion has Taylor Kennedy for its target. If Coach Chris Molloy and the Eagles survive, they will qualify for the championship round scheduled for 7 p.m. March 8.

In the other semifinal game, Southgate Anderson will take on the winner of the Belleville/Truman game.

Over in Class B, the revived Robichaud quintet, coming off a big victory over Suburban Athletic Conference co-leader, Oak Park, faces nemesis, Divine Child. The two meet in the first round at 7 p.m. Monday.

On March 5, Crestwood and Inkster tangle at 7 p.m.

“They have decent teams,” said Inkster Coach George Thompson Jr., whose club is sporting an 8-4 SAC record. “We all know that in the playoffs, there are no tomorrows. So we can't afford a letdown.”

Willow Run takes on the winner of the D.C./Robichaud game Wednesday, while Dearborn Heights Annapolis will play the survivor of the Crestwood/Inkster duel.

The championship at Robichaud will be decided 7 p.m. March 9.

Wayne spikers favored

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial, the defending Class A district women's volleyball champion, has been labeled the “team to beat” at the district playoffs.

The tournament will be staged Saturday at Romulus High.

“I would say (Wayne) is the team to beat,” Romulus Coach Gale Coleman said. “They have a fine program over there, and it's going to be tough to beat them.”

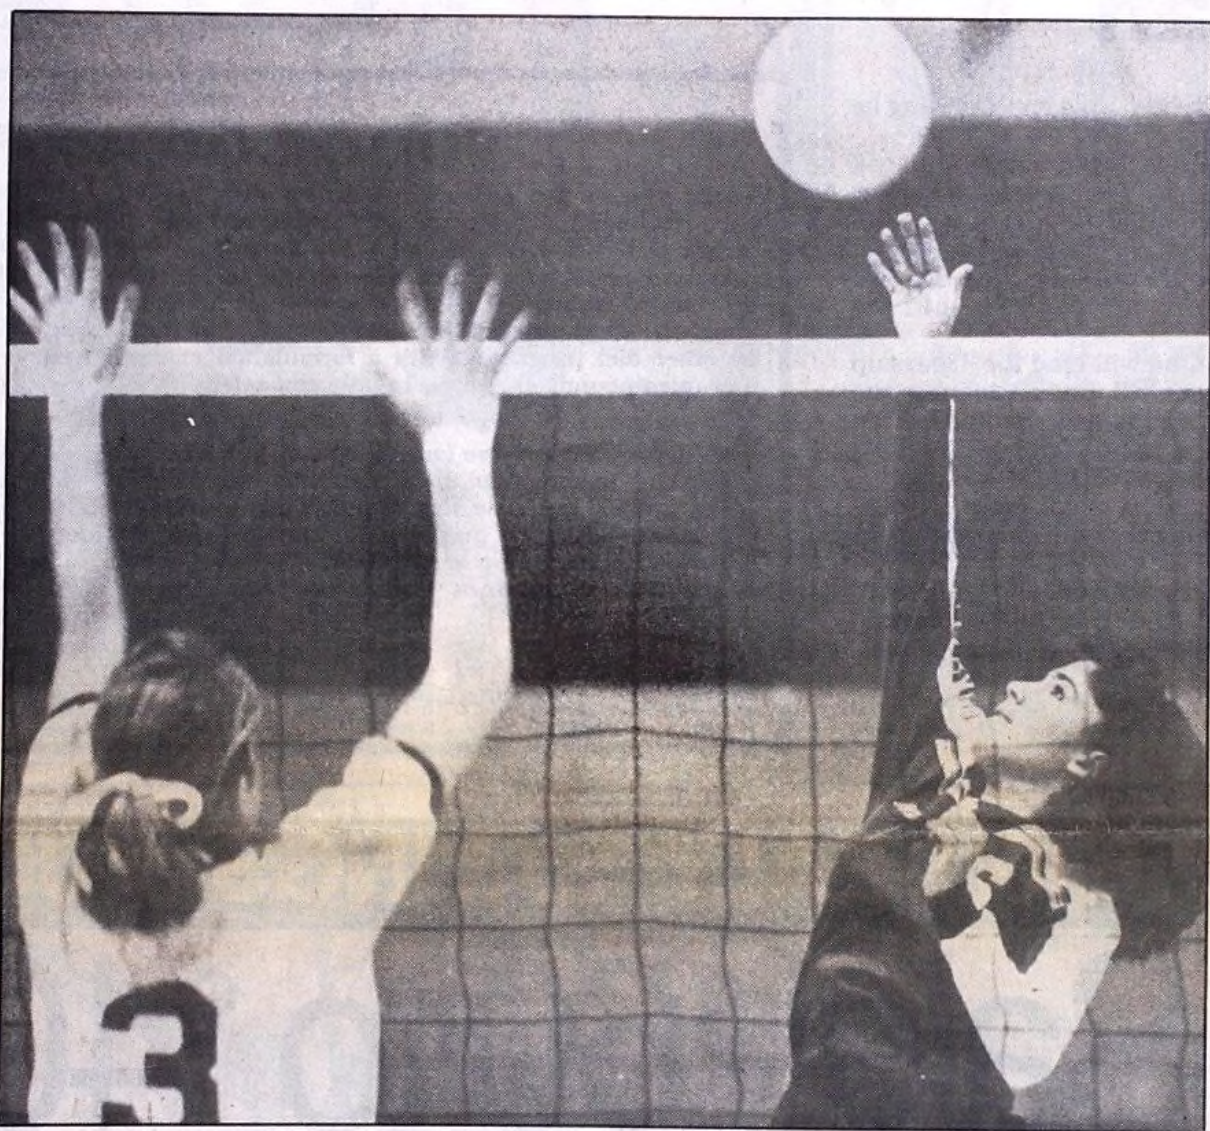

Joining Wayne Memorial and Romulus in the action on Saturday will be teams representing Westland John Glenn, Garden City and Belleville.

Wayne will open up the district tournament against none other than rival Westland John Glenn. The preliminary round will start at 5:30 p.m. Then, at 6:30 p.m., Romulus joins the fun against Garden City on one court, and on the other at the same time, Belleville plays the winner of the Wayne/Glenn game.

The championship game will be played at 7:30 p.m.

In the meantime, Romulus spikers ended their association with the South Central Conference with a stunning victory over Adrian.

The Eagles surfaced from the marathon five-game series with a 3-2 victory. They lost the opener 15-5, Brooke Hammers comes back with a smashing hit that helps the Romulus Eagles finish with an impressive 33-12-5 record for the regular season.

then bounced back and won a thriller 15-12 only to lose the third set 15-10. Romulus came back and claimed the final two games 15-9 and 15-3 to finish the SCC with a 6-2 record. That record was second only to league champ, Ann Arbor Huron (7-1).

Romulus has decided to go its separate ways and will not return to the SCC in 1992. The Eagles are committed to play an independent schedule.

In their final SCC appearances, Tammy Trubilowicz, Michele Scarrow, Brooke Hammers and Jennifer Daniel turned in exceptional performances.

Trubilowicz contributed 19 service points, nine of them aces. Scarrow had 15 service points and nine kills, while Hammers finished with six kills and 23 assists. Daniel chipped in with 21 assists.

Romulus rounded out the regular season with victories over Clarenceville (15-7, 15-6 and 15-11) as Scarrow accounted for 14 service points and six aces, and Daniel had eight service points.

In their season finale, the Eagles clipped Highland Park 15-6 and 15-7 to end the 1991 campaign with an impressive 33-12-5 record.

Glenn beats off Farmington, 61-55

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

The John Glenn Rockets hit eight of eight free-throws in the fourth quarter to turn back a late surge by the Farmington Falcons. With the win, the Rockets advance to the consolation bracket finals of the Western Lakes league mini-playoffs.

After trailing through three quarters, the Falcons scored 20 points in the last, but fell short. The Rockets woke up in time to respond to the challenge. The game ended with a 61-55 John Glenn win.

The Rockets were confident in the early stages, posting a 18-14 lead before the home crowd.

The Rams found themselves down by seven points at the half, due in large part to Rocket junior guard Jerry Jordan, who finished with 15. Jordan scored all of his points in the first three quarters.

With help from teammate Jackie Howard, who contributed 13 points, Jordan continued to push Glenn in the third. The period ended with the Rockets leading 46-35.

But the Falcons wouldn't let down.

Behind the scoring of Steve Gallagher, who hit for 16, they outscored Glenn 20-15 in the last quarter.

The Falcons were threatening to even things up when they pulled to within three points with 2:30 left in the contest. But at the 2:20 mark, Kevin Tomaszewski hit a clutch basket that turned back the Falcon rally.

The bucket seemed to retrieve the Rockets waning confidence. They took full advantage of every opportunity down the stretch, hitting all their charity shots. The Rockets held the Falcons to just five points in the last two minutes of the game.

The Rockets, who have endured a long season, hope to finish on a winning note in the consolation finals Friday night. They will face Walled Lake Western in Walled Lake.

Romulus soars to 88-62 victory

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

The Eagles continued their success in the second quarter expanding their lead to 39-34 at halftime.

The Rams were looking to make up the difference in the third, but they weren't ready for what hit them. It seemed as if there was something in the water the Eagles downed during the break. Something recharged Romulus during intermission.

The Eagles came out with fire in their eyes.

In the third, the Romulus defense

Behind a balanced offensive attack, which saw four players reach double figures, the Romulus Eagles soared past the Taylor Center Rams Tuesday night with a 88-62 victory.

The Eagles weren't too shabby on defense either, holding their opponents to just seven points in the third quarter.

In the first half, the two teams played offensive basketball with the edge going to the Eagles. The score after one quarter of play stood at 21-19.

Wayne freestyle relay qualifies for state finals

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Although they finished second at the Wolverine 'A' Conference Swimming and Diving Championships last week, Wayne Memorial 200-yard freestyle relay team will have a chance to swim in the Class A state finals.

Coach Randy Ferguson's foursome of Dan Barnett, Tim McIntyre, Brad Wolf and Jason Bodden turned in a 1:33.23 at the conference finals to finish with a silver medal. The Zebras were beaten to the wall by league champion Monroe. The winning time was posted at 1:32.33.

“Our kids did an excellent job,” said Ferguson, a former All-area swimmer from Wayne High. “Our performance qualified the team for state.”

The state finals will be staged March 8-9 at the University of Michigan.

Wayne finished fourth overall in the final Wolverine 'A' standings. The Zebras garnered 201 points, and they trailed defending league champion Monroe, Wyandotte and Belleville. However, Wayne finished ahead of Fordson, Southgate and Lincoln Park.

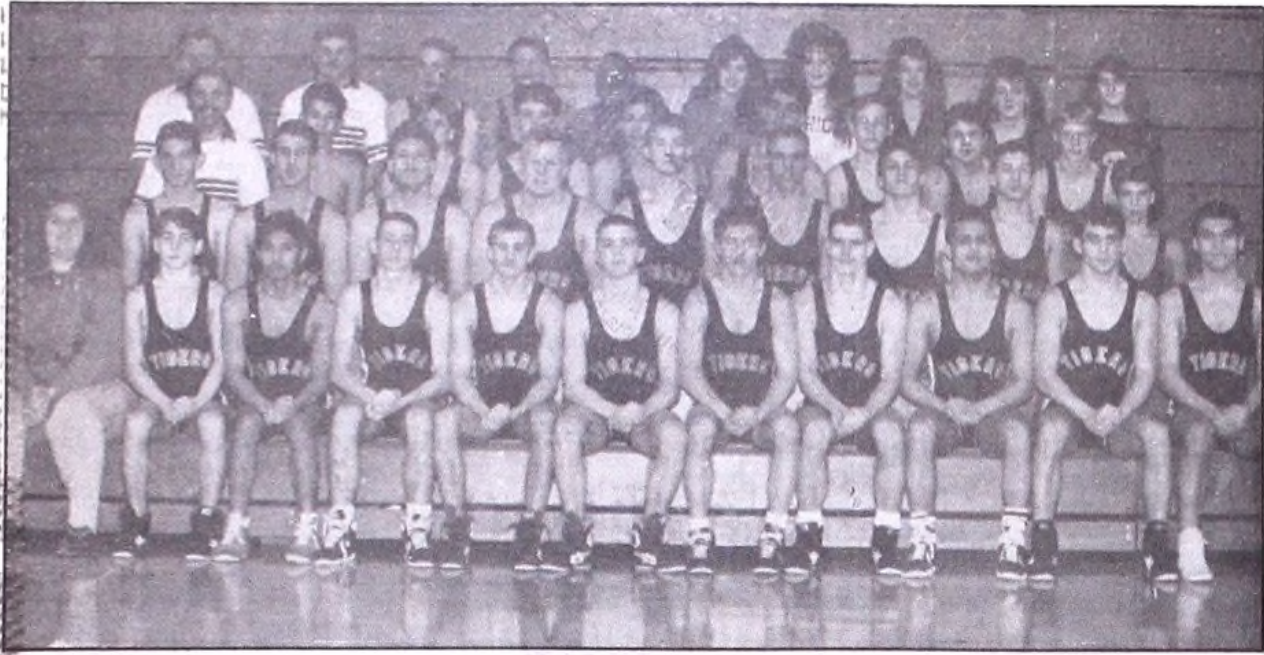

“I felt that if we had worked a bit harder, we could have improved on our record,” said Ferguson, whose club wound up with a 5-6-1 won-lost-tied mark. Wayne was 3-3 in the conference.

Wayne also placed two of its team members on the all-conference team. Diver Larry Cain was selected after he finished second in his specialty. Teammate Jason Bodden also was picked for the 100-yard freestyle, an event he finished third with a time of 50.95. He trailed Ken Johns of Wyandotte (48.93) and Rick Stevens of Monroe (49.43) to the wire.

Wayne also received a bronze-winning performance from its 400-yard freestyle team. The team lineup included Randy Lively, McIntyre, Bodden and Dan Missig, who covered the distance in 3:32.33. Monroe again surfaced the winner (3:22.26), while Wyandotte followed.

On the edge of victory, but not quite there, is Belleville gymnast Jessica Monte, who had to settle for second place on the balance beam. Monte and the Tigers will be competing for regional honors next week. ANP photo by Werner Slocum/staff photographer

With the league, district and regional titles stashed in their pockets, Belleville wrestlers will travel to Battle Creek Friday night to compete in the state quarterfinals. Team members include: Sherry Spraga (manager), from left bottom row, Tom Kelley, Jay Ballesteros, Josh Monte, Mike Champagne, Steven Davis, John Ratliff, Billy Yuhas, Fred Garcia, Mike Rochon and Brent Paeth; second row are: Sean Zaborowski, Marty Sacco, Brian Keeton, Jim Howe, Chuck Coleman, Jim Johnson, Jeremy Amrhein, James Cartwright, and Kyle Young; third row are head coach Gerald Malecek, Damian Meneses, Jim Ratcliff, Pat Summerlin, Gary Phillips, Jim Kotowski, John Chudzinski, Josh Speller, Kevin Rupnow; top row are: assistant coach Tim Ottewill, ninth-grade coach Mike Beckley, Doug Howe, Eric Kwek, Davoine Graves, managers Lisa Sanders, Glenda Sparrow, Jeni McLean, Sonya Smith and Candace Troutman. Steven Davis will make the return trip to Battle Creek Friday night to compete with his team, Belleville, in the state quarterfinals of the team championships.

He returns with a lot of memories and emotions after competing for the individual title.

The 16-year-old Belleville High junior came within one victory of realizing what only a few high school athletes accomplish - winning a state championship.

Davis was forced to settle for a silver medal when he lost in the finals of the 125-pound class to Mitch Zoldowski of Brighton.

Ironically, Davis had defeated Zoldowski twice this season.

"Steven was not 100 percent," Belleville Coach Gerald Malecek said. "He suffered from a sore throat and cold and yet he managed to go out there and give it everything he had.

"We're proud of this young man," Malecek said. "So is his school and community. How many kids can say they reached the state finals."

Davis has chalked up an incredible 54-1 won-lost record. And he hasn't finished the season, yet.

On Friday night, he will lead the Tigers up against the No. 1-ranked Class A team in the state, Temperance Bedford. Bedford is an overwhelming favorite to end Belleville's season and go on to retain the state title.

"(Bedford) has an excellent team. Everything must go wrong for them and right for us to survive," Malecek said.

The two teams are scheduled to walk on to the mats at 8 p.m. Friday in Kellogg Arena.

The winner advances to the state semifinals.

The loser returns home.

Former Wayne star plays at Central

Shawn Justice, a graduate of Fairlane Christian, will be wearing a Central College baseball uniform when the Wildcats open up their season next month.

Justice, a Wayne resident, is the son of Don and Kathy Justice. He is a freshman.

Central will begin their season on the road. The McPherson, Kansas club will play Tabor, Kansas, in its season opener.

Central College will host a national baseball tournament this spring.

fense played it's best quarter of the game, allowing the Rams a mere seven points.

At the same time, the Eagles' offense poured in 25 points. It was an offensive barrage, as four Eagles hit double figures in the game.

Romulus forward Abu Hamilton led all scorers with 20 points. Hamilton also contributed significantly on the boards with 11 rebounds.

Also in double figures for the Eagles were John Dinkens, 19; Torrey Mills, 12; and Ty Zedd Bowles, 10.

Eagles Coach Chris Molloy had great praise for his team's performance.

"We had a very focused effort from everyone. The guys played an outstanding game in all phases."

Besides the great balance on offense, Molloy said his team "played very well on defense." He singled out the defensive work of Lamont Kennedy as "outstanding."

By the end of the third quarter, 'the Eagles' two-way assault had produced a 23-point lead. The Rams were effectively down and out with the score at 64-41.

The fourth quarter was wide open, with the two teams combining for 45 points. But with the game out of reach, it was more like shooting practice.

The Taylor Center cagers did get a good game from Scott Blackledge, who finished with 14 points. But he had little help.

Wednesday night, the Eagles are set to play a make-up game at home against the Ann Arbor Hurons.

On Friday night, the Eagles will play their last game as a member of the South Central Conference when they host Adrian. Romulus will play as an independent next year.

FOOD LOVER'S DIET

To introduce a new approach to dieting, free diet pills were given to 50 people. With The Omicron Diet, one man lost 14 pounds in 5 days and one woman lost 18 pounds in 10 days. The average weight loss was over a pound a day for women and over 2 pounds a day for men. The Omicron Diet is a revolutionary new concept for unbelievably fast weight loss developed and clinically proven by National Dietary Research of Washington, D.C. This significant breakthrough in metabolic weight control was made possible by the utilization of biological information overlooked by other diet programs. With a formulation of natural enzymes along with real food, you shed unwanted pounds extremely rapidly and safely.

Maintain your new weight forever without dieting!!!!!!

With the special enzyme formula Metabolase, it is now possible to reduce your usual weight by up to 10% or to maintain the weight loss after dieting, without changing your normal lifestyle or eating habits. Available through physicians since 1982, the enzyme formula is now available in pharmacies without a prescription. Start enjoying the foods you love to eat without fear of gaining weight. Metabolase now available at:

Soldier reports from Gulf

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

When televised war coverage features the U.S.S. Saratoga in action, Belleville area residents can follow a local man in combat.

Marc Perkins, a third-class petty officer, is a parachute rigger aboard the U.S.S. Saratoga.

Each month, letters and newspaper clippings are sent to each of the local servicemen and women in Operation Desert Storm. Many of them respond regularly with updates on their duties. The latest group of letters were mailed after the Feb. 17 rally in downtown Belleville.

On Feb. 8, Perkins answered a letter from the Belleville city editor, and thanked area residents for their letters and support.

"In my rate, we work on all the aviator life support gear. It ranges from internal communication systems, land and sea survival, packing para-chutes and, most importantly, the oxygen system," Perkins wrote. "In our job, it is something that always has to be done right the first time. Someone's life depends on what we do. There is some job satisfaction here."

Perkins said his squadron flies the A-6 Intruder and the KA-6D tanker.

"The Intruder is a day/night, low-level attack aircraft and the tanker is used for in-flight refueling," Perkins said.

A year after the JOA went into effect, what's the Detroit newspaper situation in 1991?

A little more than a year ago, newspaper advertisers in Detroit got the shock of their lives. The JOA was approved, ad rates soared, and circulation dropped.

Now, a year later, overall circulation of the Free Press is down by 2,610. The News' overall circulation is down by 190,000. Yet both newspapers are raising rates again.

Meanwhile, largely because of all of this, a lot of newspaper advertisers are using

SPRING.

SPRING (The Suburban Press RING) is the network of all 50 Detroit suburban newspapers published by the Adams, Associated, Heritage, Observer & Eccentric, and Hometown groups.

And we offer advertisers the opportunity to zero in on the customers who have the money to buy what you sell.

SPRING can deliver your newspaper ad to as many as 728,812 affluent Detroit suburban households, about twice as many as the daily edition of either The News or Free Press... and at a lower CPM. With just one rep, one order, one "slick," and one invoice.

And our flat rate for Free-Standing Inserts (FSIs) is only $23 per thousand!

The bottom line is this: a year after the JOA, it is clear that the newspaper situation in Detroit has changed significantly.

The newspaper situation in the SUBURBS is good.

Detroit's suburban market remains strong.

And SPRING delivers it.
